CURRENCY CREEK ESTATE

History in the making

First settled in the 1800s Currency Creek Estate has a rich and fascinating history. First planted with Shiraz, Riesling, Cabernet Sauvignon and Chardonnay in 1969 the property pioneered the wine region which bares its name.

The 1,000 acre (405 hectare) property has one of the largest and most beautiful vineyards in the Currency Creek region.

The vineyards blend harmoniously with unspoilt woodlands and wetlands that abound with rare species of flora and fauna. The Estate's affinity with nature is exemplified through its logo a native eucalyptus leaf.

The region

The Currency Creek region is situated in South Australia adjacent to the Southern Ocean and Lake Alexandrina.

The region is maritime in character and produces long dry summers where the mean growing rainfall is less than 6 inches (155mm) and the mean January temperature is 65°F (18.5°C). These conditions matched with the ancient coastal soils create the ideal conditions for prolonged ripening and consistent grape yields producing wines with outstanding varietal definition and lift.
